Andover High School

Time, that irrevocable thing by which we measure our lives. Everybody knows about it and its existence. Everybody knows about its importance. High School students probably know more about time than anyone else, for it is here that we've had the best, and sometimes the worst times of our lives.

We became experts at learning how to measure time other than by the alarm clock that woke us up in the morning or the corner-of-the-wall clock that put us to sleep. We learned that we could listen to two-and-a-half songs on the radio before getting to school, and count three hundred steps and two intimate conversations before rushing to homeroom. But we knew we'd hear almost no announcements and could catch some extra sleep when we got there. A sometimes deafening, nerve-racking bell measured time in between classes, but we got around those, too. We found that if we paid attention in class for most of the time, and spent the rest of the time daydreaming, class would go by more quickly.

We learned that we could get full-length assignments done in between classes, and still find a few minutes to gossip on the bridge. We learned that it was much easier to spend time with friends in the cafe, than doing our homework in the library.

Outside of school we found ways to spend our time, pass time, and sometimes even waste time. We went to sports events, parties, or spent quiet evenings at home with a friend or a book. We worked, we played, we laughed and we cried. Sometimes we had too much time on our hands, and when we needed it most it seemed we didn't have any at all.

Our experience measured our time better than any new computerized gadget on the market. The old tree by the school, which everyone peeked out at, let us know that time was passing. Through each season, vibrant orange in fall, prickly cold in winter and a misty green in spring, we saw that tree change, and we welcomed it.

Our stay here has ended, but we know that we've got our whole lives ahead of us. Lots of changes will occur after we're gone, and whether it's the right time or the wrong time for us, a day will come that the timing will be perfect.

The Circle Game
Joni Mitchel

Yesterday a child came out to wander
Caught a dragonfly inside a jar
Fearful when the sky is full of thunder
And tearful at the falling of a star
Then the child moved ten times round the season
Skated over ten clear frozen streams
Words like when you're older must appease him
And promises of someday make his dreams
And the seasons, they go round and round
And the painted ponies go up and down
We're captive on the carousel of time
We can't return, we can only look behind from where we came

And go round and round and round in the circle game.
Sixteen springs and sixteen summers gone now
Cartwheels turn to car wheels through the town
And they tell him, Take your time, it won't be long now
Till you drag your feet to slow the circles down.

So the years spin by and now the boy is twenty.
Though his dreams have lost some grandeur coming true
There'll be new dreams, maybe better dreams and plenty
Before the last revolving year is through.

In a world governed by money, and an age of Reaganomics and Proposition Two-and-a-Half, there has been little concern for and devasting cut-backs in the funding for the arts. But in Andover, we've gone beyond all the money schemes and petty tax-breaks to establish a center for the perpetuation of the visual arts. Here, artists and performers can attain a new style, technique or form, unique to the individual and surpassing all others.

The opening of the new center also brought Andover's cultural connection with the rest of the world to its apex with the Boston Pops concert and subsequent performances by Andover students and townspeople alike. The new center, something we all designed, hoped for and built, is something we should be proud to call our own; in essence, to preserve, for ourselves and the world, the performing arts of Andover High School.

With this in mind, we dedicate the 1984 Yearbook to the J. Everett Collins Center for the Performing Arts.

Prom 1983

Although the skies were gray and promised rain, the flowers were in bloom inside the Christian Formation Center for the Andover High Sehool Prom '83. Entitled "Just You and I", after a sound traek of the same name by Eddie Rabbit and Chrystle Gale, eouples arrived in a variety of pastels ereating the air of festivity for the elosing of yet another sehool year.

The reigning queen, Karen Santagati, was attended by Rick MeCloskey.

By the middle of the evening, ties had been loosened, eollars unbuttoned, jaekets off and shoes removed. Although several partieipants left before the Grand Mareh, the festivities proved to be a sueeess. And another prom night passed into history among the seashells and sand.

Time it was, oh what a time it was
It was a time of innocence
A time of confidences
Long ago, it must be
I have a photograph
Preserve your memories
They're all that's left now.

It's been years ago
So far away
Since we sat face to face
But he carved for me a memory
That time cannot erase
A mirror of the things we shared
Reflecting days and easy ways

We had time,
 We had it all,
 My friend.
We stood on the bridge,
 Over the chasm,
 Watching the water,
 Fighting the wind.
We never believed,
 My friend,
 In the power of the sky.
We laughed in the face of fear,
 We faced it together,
 As one.
Now it's late,
 And the bridge is weaker,
 Yet the river below is louder.
As the support begins to crumble,
 As we run our separate ways,
 We will always be together.
And we will always remember,
 My friend,
 How we held on,
 And survived,
 During the storm.

We stood together,
 side by side.
 watching the leaves change shades.
We held hands,
 when the tree was bare,
 and the cold wind blew all around.
During the blossoming,
 we gazed all around us,
 marvelling at the change.
And through the sweltering,
 boiling days,
 we laughed together in the shade.
Now the leaves are crumbling, again,
 yet,
 we cannot remain as one.
Together,
 we must split apart,
yet,
 keep our bonds as strong.

Well I left this happy home
To see what I could find out
I left my folks and friends
With the aim to clear my mind out
Well I hit the dusty road
And the many kinds I met there,
Many stories told me
Of the way to get there
So on and on I go
The seconds tick the time out
There's so much left to know
And I'm on the road to find out.

HOMECOMING '83

The Varsity Soccer Team succeeded in defeating Lawrence in a 10-1 victory for the first game of the day. The Football Team shut out Haverhill 19-0

The annual Homecoming Floats added a touch of creativity to the day's excitement. The sophomores led the parade with their interesting rendition of the "Fabulous Fifties". The juniors followed with a telephone hotline, asking the grads to "Give Us A Buzz!" The seniors ended the parade with a child-like cry of "Walking In Your Footsteps".

Even though the spectators were a bit chilled, the cheerleaders soon warmed their hearts with cheers of pride for their team.

Homecoming Week came to an end with a Halloween Dance on Saturday night. Students, faculty and even some grads showed their true colors and alter egos, dressing up in various costumes portraying from clowns to flashers to, yes, even mermaids! The dance, featuring our own "the End", a band comprised of several A.H.S. seniors, was a great success, with everyone joining in the dancing and good times.

Overall, Homecoming Week was very successful, and the graduating seniors of this year can look forward to a great one next year!!

Half Time

Although Homecoming 83 had a slow start, everyone showed an enthusiastic interest in welcoming back the past graduates. Spirit week started off with a bang with help from SAC, students officers and faculty. Monday morning classes were delayed an hour to kick off the week with an introduction to coming attractions. Skits were shown displaying the varions activities planned.

Boys were seen with the piles of books, cleaning lockers and getting lunch. Was this because they were gentlemen? Probably not. Most men participated whole-heartedly in Boy's Slave Day, keeping in mind the various tasks and duties they had to do. Though they acted as if they hated it, we know the boys were seething with revenge, plotting different ways to get back at their tormentors.

Through their complaints and wails of desperation, the girls were seen smiling on Tuesday, paying for the boys enslavement the previous day. While the girls ran back and forth to the snack bar, the boys joined forces and chanted varions army songs to quicken the pace. Now we can understand the snide remarks and the snickers along with the somewhat stifled laughter but was the ball and chain really necessary?

Is it a skywriter, or the F.T.D. Man? No wait, it's the Good Year Blimp! Wrong again, it's Button-Hat-T-Shirt day at A.H.S!! Various sizes and shapes of hats could be seen bobbing in the corridors at the High School on Wednesday. The faculty as well as students could hardly be recognized through the array of parafinalia. The day was a huge success, with everyone wearing at least one of the three.

Punk Day lives on!!! Spirit week would not have been complete without the one and only punk day! Its success continued, being the biggest turn out yet for participation. Eyes could not have helped popping out at the assortment of outfits created especially for this day. But one must wonder, who wears the pants in your family, Peter?

Friday was the biggest day of Spirit Week with the traditional Blue/Gold day to show support for our teams. The evening began with a pep assembly at the closing of school, and the annual faculty-student Bar-B-Q, with all the gourmet chefs cooking up a storm. After the students were fed, the pep rally was held in the gym, complete with cheerleaders and players to psyche everyone up. The only problem was telling the soccer players from the soccer cheerleaders!!! To finish up the fun filled evening, the crowds headed over to the J. Everett Collins Center for the Performing Arts to cheer on those brave enough to venture onto the stage and perform.

Homecoming Day was a bit breezy, but the teams were ready to challenge their opposition. All teams remained in good standing throughout the day.

SPORTS

Football

The 1983 Golden Warrior Varsity Football team once again prodneed a superb season. The team raeked up 7 wins, 2 losses, and 1 tie. Led by eaptains Bill Donovan and Mike Griffin, the Warriors put up a good fight at every game and were only overeome by Methnen and Billeriea. Two of the season's highlights were the team's win over MVC leader, Draent, and the season-ending eliff hanger win over Central. Seniors Ian Dowe, Chris Searpa, Mark Grams, Mark Nardone, and Charlie Ziegenbein were named to the MVC All Star Team and Bill Donovan was voted team MVP. The Warrior team dedieated the season to Coaeh Collins, who eelebrated his 25th year as head eoaeh. Congrats to the team and the eoaehes, and good lnek to next year's team!

Soccer

B. Sheehy

The Andover Golden Warriors varsity soccer team was hit hard with the loss of 16 gradnates last Jnne. It was a rebuilding year for Coach Ammundsen, but the team pulled together and with its 11-2-5 record made it to the first round of the states for the fourth year in a row. They finished third in the M.V.C. a half point behind Second place Methuen. Helping the team in its winning season were Tri-Captains Jim Denoncourt, Hai Dang, and junior David Keene. Returning Lettermen who saw varsity action last year were seniors Peter Surrette and Brian Sheehey, and juniors Paul Hevehan and Nick Bates. New members of the team included seniors Zack Apgar, Sean Burns, Steve McDowell and Mark Perlowski; new juniors included John Drake, Jeff Kennedy, Dave Casanave and Glen Livermore. First year sophomores were Scott Wilkins, David Bartle, and Barry Tucker.

Girls' Soccer

The AHS Girls Soccer Team had yet another successful season. Led by Captain Mary Oppel and assistants Deanne Gianelly and Alyssa McCabe, the team finished with 12-2-2 record. With coaching of Karen Kennedy and Juan Dang they finished third in the NSIL. For the second year in a row they qualified for the state tournament. After winning their first game 2-1 in overtime against Bridgewater — Tayuham they were matched up against second seated Wellesley in the quarterfinals. Although they were defeated they should by congratulated for their outstanding effort.

This year's graduating seniors will be missed tremendously. They are Mary Oppel, Deanne Gianelly, Alyssa McCabe, Nila Thoday, and Shelly Maihot.

Next year's team hopes to keep up the success with Kathy Neaves, Torrie Fitzpatrick, Joanne Martin, Julie Kittleson, Suzanne Curley, Debra Weisman and SaraMichelle Sapuppo. Congratulations to a super team for a super season!

The Girl's Junior Varsity Soccer Team also had a good season. Under the direction of Coach Loschi, the team worked to a record of 5-3-4. Led by the leadership of Betsy Murphy and assistant Stephanie Weinstein, the team showed constant improvement throughout the season Debbie Cookson and Betsy Murphy showed outstanding performance this season, beside adding to the overall depth of the team. The varsity team, along with these fine players, should be able to uphold that success of the Girl's Soccer.

Good Luck next year.

JV Soccer

The boy's junior varsity soccer team had another outstanding and productive year. They had an incredible record of 17-1, the best in Coach Marcilles years as coach of the team. They dominated the Merrimack Valley by scoring over 40 goals during the season. The sophomores that came up to play for last year's juniors did a fantastic job, with great spirit and a craving to be winners. Next year looks to be another great year for the dominating team. Keep it up!

The 1983 Girl's Varsity Volleyball team had a fair but spirited season. The team coached by Arthur Iworsley, ended up in fifth place. Lorna Turgess was awarded the Most Valuable Player award. Kathy Koh was presented the Blue and Gold award for her consistent play. Led by captains Lauren Hendry, Aimee Daimon, Patty Foley, and Robin Savoy, the team had an enjoyable season and all are commended.

This year's J.V. Volleyball team was a good one. The team worked well together as a team, and achieved some superb wins and some tough losses. The team's record of wins and losses wasn't number one, but their spirit was. No one could surpass their spirit or outyell their cheering voices. This year's season was a fun and exciting one, and the team looks forward to an even better one next year. Patty Heron received the Most Improved award, and Chris Scanlon got the Most Valuble Player award. The team was led by tri-captains Pam Heron, Chris Scanlon, and Kate Carpenter.

Varsity Field Hockey

This years's varsity Field Hockey team consisted of six returning varsity players: Co-captain Laurie Bourdelais, co-captain Hang Dang, Jen Stratton, Diane Giamusso, Sherry Cunningham and Katie Durso. Several members of the team were selected to the Coaches All Merrimac Valley Conference All-star team: Hang Dang, Laurie Bourdelais, Kristen Wilson, Jen Gagonon and Barbara Frank. Hang Dang was also named to the Lawrence Eagle Tribune All-star team.

Andover High Cross Country

Led by senior Dolyne Divino, the girls' Cross Country team showed uncommon determination this year. The five member team had a disappointing record of one win and eight losses. Beeause they needed five girls to officially compete, and frequently had only three, they were foreed to forfeit seven of their eight defeats. Coaeh Grasso commends the girls for eompeting even in meets they knew they'd be foreed to forfeit, and especially notes the improvements made by juniors Katie Dolan and Suzanna Lenoe. Hopefnlly Coach Grasso's efforts to strike up enthusiasm will result in a bigger team next year!

This year's cross country team finished another successful season placing third in the Merrimack Valley Conference with a record of five wins and three losses. They put in a strong fifth place effort in states and finished fourth in the Northern Area Invittional Meet. Outstanding team members included Rick Dow, who finished seventh in the All State Meet, first class division. Rick was also a Merrimack Valley Conference All Star, and chosen for the Boston Globe All Scholastic Team. Tony Holbrook placed seventh in the Northern Area Invitational Meet, and was also elected to the Merrimack Valley All Star Team. Other important team members were senior John Duffy, sophomore Jon Yezerski, junior Rich Burke, and senior Todd Deery. Inexperience did not seem to hindr other senior members Rich Bridrau, Dave Caiati, Peter Walshe, Chris Stone, Rich Burke, and Tim Hoyle, in participating with full effort as well as determination.

The Andover High Swim Team had another exceptional year in 1983. Undefeated for the third year in a row, the swimmers have truly established themselves as the best in the area. This year was also marked by growing support for the team as seen by the large crowds that came to meets, cheering on the swimmers.

The team was led by the superb coaching of Patti Barret and exceptional skills of co-captains Laurene Lazzaretti and Amy Brown. Laurene's last year on the team was marked by regional and state wins, and an article in the Boston Globe about her. Other swimmers also participated in the regional and state competitions at the end of the season.

Best of luck to next year's team who must try to uphold the Swim Team's incredible legacy of 22-0-0!!

Girl's Cheerleading

Thirteen Little Indians

The Indians and the Warriors definitely add a "touch of class" to the football games. They do their best to get the Pep Club physched up by doing their exciting dances which everyone on the Indians help to make up. A lot of time and effort is spent thinking up the dances and then putting it to the band music. There are 5 juniors on the Indians and 7 seniors: Kim Siefert, Liz Tholman, Christine Jensen, Michele Musterart, Jean Kelly, Bev Poulin, Deana Abrahamso, Elise Lewandowski, Maryanne Nuzzo, Robin Columbosain, captain Sue Serbagi and co-captain Colleen Johnson. Sue and Colleen set up the practices and try to keep things as organized as possible. Along with the Indians are the wild and crazy Warriors. John Duffy, Doug Linquist, Rich Quintal and Dean Orofanedes. They get the crowd jumping out of their seats at the football games. They provide a special spark to the games which everyone loves. The Indians and Warriors have been a favorite of the football crowd for many years in the past and will surely carry on for more years to come.

Warrior Hoops

It was another good year for Andover Basketball. The loss of Will Hixon hit the team with a loss unequaled by any other the team had encountered, but they came through under the professional and spiritual guidance of Coach Ryser. This years team didn't have superstar players, but they worked hard and stressed fundamental defense, going on to defeat Chelmsford and Greater Lawrence by 7 points. Led by Captains M. Nardone and M. Gibson, and key players W. Vickers, C. Scarpa, C. Ziegenbein, and T. Perry, the team persisted in scoring and carried the team through another great season!!!

Boy's J-V Hoops

This year's J.V. Hoops team had a sueeessful season with an overall reeord of 11 wins and 5 losses. Trained by Coaeh Sullivan the team had several major vietories ineluding the games with Central Catholie and Lawrenee. Captains for this year were Niek Lembo and Chris Bartley. Doug Rotundi proved his skill as high seorer for the team. Best of luek to next year's team!

Girl's J.V. Basketball

The J.V basketball team also did very well this season. Again, these girls showed the opposition that no one pushes Andover girls around! Captain Chris Scanlon led the pack with Coach Thompson shouting support from the sidelines. Lisa Marcelia also proved to be a great team leader, both on and off the court. Best of luck next year!!!

Girl's Varsity Hoops

The Girl's varsity basketball team for 1984 did very well. Under the expert coaching of Karen Kennedy, the team showed great enthusiasm in all of their games. Captains for this year were Shawna McCloskey and Mary Tropeano, who can be proud of their team record.

Boys' Varsity Gymnastics

Boy's Indoor Track

F-Troop.

The Boys Indoor Track Team combined their finest talent during the 1984 season. Captains Rick Dow, Ian Dowe, Larry Cuddy, and Peter Comeau showed outstanding performances with their team which won them the Methuen Invitationals, the MVC title and the State Class B Championships. Under the expert coaching staff of Iworsley, Alsup, and Grasso, assisted by Rick Collins, they can be very proud of their accomplishments!!! Good Luck Next Year!

Girl's Indoor Track

The girls winter traek season started off slow, but they didn't let it get them down, bouncing baek to place seventh in the elass B state meet at Harvard. Karen Hodkinson placed first in the shotput, and Dolyne Devino placed third in the two mile run. The relay team of Brenda Craig, Marianne Nuzzo, Wendy Caruthers, and Nicole Demasso also did really well, and Kris Van Olinda showed her outstanding talent in the high jump. CONGRATULATIONS!!

Ski Team

Dudess

Ski 83

Both the boys and girls ski team had a superb season with an overall winning record. Captains for these snow-bunnies and bunnettes were Kalley Cutler and Christer Mattson. Jerry Schimmel coached this outstanding team to a good showing in all meets. Outstanding performances were made by Cheryl Crawford, Tina Sutton, Robbie Carpentier, and Christer Mattson. Congratulations!

Warrior Hockey

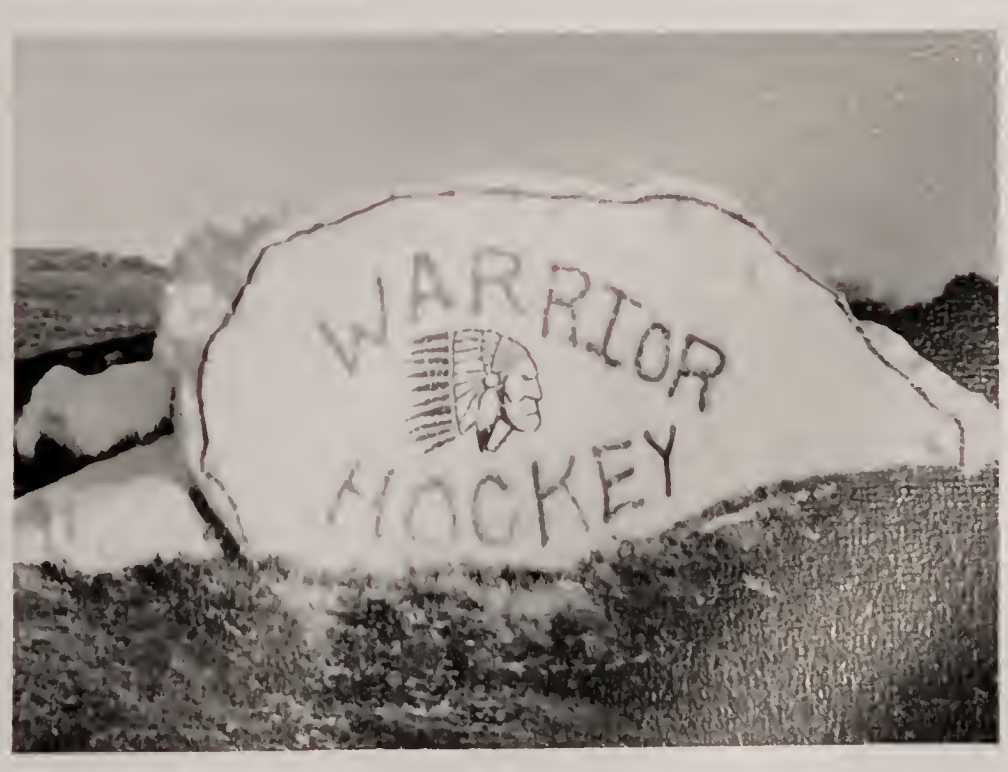

Coach Grogan's varsity hockey team, captained by seniors Bill Donovan, Steve McDowell had a disappointing, but exciting season. The team had a rough start losing its first 4 games including a 1-0 decision to Haverhill in which the Warriors outshot and outplayed the opposition by a wide margin. Central scored 3 goals in the last minute to hand the Warriors a disappointing a 8-6 loss. The team was led by veterans such as Donovan, Magierson, Smith, Jones, and Bateson. First year players included Ala, Bartle, Moynihan, Kennedy, and Deery. The Warriors posted big wins over Greater Lawrence 8-0, Methuen 5-1 and Lawrence 2-0. The Lawrence game included a bench-clearing brawl in the last seconds of the game.

Late-season injuries to Moynihan and Jones hurt the team. Fan support for the team was very good, especially during the Dracut win 7-2, and the Warrior iceman appreciated it. Andover will lose Donovan, Ala, and McDowell, but should be back in force for next season.

Warrior Baseball

The outlook for the 1984 Golden Warriors baseball team looks very bright. With the entire pitching staff returning, Coach Vickers feels that the team should be in the thick of the battle for the Merrimac Valley crown. This year's team will be captained by seniors Mark Grams (.310) and Billy Vickers. Vickers was team's leading hitter).429) and leading pitcher as a junior. The team has an outstanding group of returning starters from last year's league runner-up. These include Mike Gibson (.339), John Leahy (.250), Rob Wilson (.250), and Bill Weidman who was the number 3 pitcher on last year's squad.
If Coach Vickers is able to fill in some key positions in the infield, this year's team should be a very exciting team to watch. Some of the returning varsity reserves who will be expected to fill these gaps are John Duffy, Dave Caiati, Shane Smith, Craig Burzlaff, and Sean Burns.

Awesome Catch

Catch that Warrior Spirit

The 1984 Andover Varsity Softball team was led by Seniors Sherry Cunningham, Kristen Wilson, Kathy Koh, and Deanne Gianelly throughout their 15 game season. New players to the Varsity team were Cyndi Connor, Christine Hashem, Kathy Neaves, Brenda Busta, Jen Morris, Rubina Carver, Laura Hayes and Peggy Lee. Betsy Murphy and Lisa Gagliardi came through with strong pitching.

Homerun!!

"Is anybody listening to me?"

All in all it was a fun season and, thanks to the dedicated coaches Mrs. Pat Thompson and Mrs. Evelyn Cullinane, a successful one.

Boy's Spring Track

The 1984 Golden Warriors Spring Track Team had another outstanding season. With the aid and supervision of Coach Collins, and leadership of captains Rick Dow, Larry Cuddy, Peter Comeau and Ian Dowe. Best of luck to next years team!!!

That Championship Season

Girl's Spring Track

The 1984 Girl's Spring Track Team had another successful season this year. With exceptional victories early in the season and with the help of key members like Joanne Saalfrank, Laurie Bourdelais, Maryanne Nuzzo, and especially Dolyne Divino, who had a season marked by many records, the team went on to achieve a remarkable season.

"Footloose"

Seasoned veterans with years of experience in the track and field events the girls worked hard to improve the past record of the Girl's Team, and should be congratulated for their effort.

Boy's Tennis

The Boy's Tennis Team lost many to last year's graduation, but that didn't stop the team. Defending MVC champions of 83, the boys still had many outstanding players. Eagle-Tribune All-Scholastic doubles team Steven Perlberg and Mark Perlowski, Most Valuable Player of the MVC, Jeff Chang. Other key players Tod Deery and Damon Dyer are back to help the Warriors continue their dominance of the conference.

Anne Ablee

The Girl's Tennis Team was once again a strong member of the Merrimac Valley Conference. Led by seniors Mary Oppel, Colleen Johnson; juniors Anne Ablee, Jennie Willis, and Katie D'Urso, though losing many to graduation, the team showed spirit, poise, and sportsmandhip. The team consists of many girls, who don't all play year 'round, and found it difficult to compete with teams who's members do play all year. Fortunately the girls were able to hold their own, Congratulations to this years team, and good luck to next years!!!!

83 Golf

A young club with much potential led by co-captains "Mr. Consistancy" Doug Linquist and the always flashy Chris Scarpa, the Andover High School Varsity Golf Squad also consisted of veterans Bill Earnshaw, cocky Johnny Jones, and the mellow twosome of Rob Hendry and Steve Zaimes. This years golf squad was guided by the golden-hearted coach Lawson. There is high hopes for an MVC title and the state championship.

ACTIVITIES

Student Advisory Council

"... and if elected I promise to get Early Release ..." "I promise to get Open Ends ..." "I promise ..."

Phrases like this were heard over and over again last spring. The same campaign promises that have been heard at Andover High for the past five years. But although the promises were the same this year — the student government at Andover High certainly was not!!

Over the past year, the Student Advisory Council has made dramatic changes in both the structure and purpose of Student Government. Beginning in September with an all-day Student Government meeting in the new Collins Center, the Student Advisory Council, class officers and homeroom reps began making plans for an unforgetable year at AHS! Utilizing the new philosophy of more student involvement, Student Government began writing up a new constitution, and took a much more active role in planning student activities.

Under the guidance of advisors Karen Gowan and Mike "Andover High" Marcoux, along with president Elaine Scanlon and six dedicated new SAC members, Student Government at Andover High took on a whole new meaning. For the first time in almost ten years, Andover High began to have dances once again, thanks to the planning of dawn McCoy, V.P. in charge of Dances. SAC planned a fantastic Homecoming Week, a surprise assembly for Mr. Hixon, and a great Christmas assembly due to the efforts of Rich Quintal and John Duffy, V.P.'s in charge or Publicity and Assemblies. SAC did, as promised, speak in front of the School Committee for Early Release, they also ran the Bloodmobile in the Spring and Fall, worked with Mrs Jennings for changes in the cafeteria, ran all the elections for class officers, homeroom reps, Homecoming and Senior Student Government Day, as well as setting up new guidelines for future Student Governments. To say the least, the people on SAC have been quite busy this year! To accomplish all these things, they met two to three days a week, often at the expense of their own lunch period.

SAC spent many long hours outside of school and on the weekends working on these different projects. Thanks to treasurer A.J. Sullivan, the SAC bank account was kept (usually) in the black, and Karen Santagati was the V.P. in charge of rules and curriculum. One especially indispensable member of the Council (and its future president) was Betsy "Liz" Murphy, whose familiar handwritten dittos and organization were the backbone of Student Council.

Hopefully with all that SAC has done this year, the experience can be passed down to next year's Student Government to get things rolling once more!

Senior Class Officers

The senior class officers this year were Christopher Scarpa, president, Dean Orfanedes, vice president, and Michael Griffin, secretary-treasurer. A main objective for the class officers was to promote school spirit, and they worked closely with S.A.C. on the school dances and Homecoming Week. The officers were also responsible for organizing the class trip, the class fund-raiser, the senior brunch, and graduation. Throughout the year, Chris, Dean, and Mike were guided by their faculty advisor, Mike Marcoux.

Junior Class Officers

Inspired by Miss Jo Anne Samara, this year's junior class officers proved to be very successful: Barb McNeil, president, Pam Nicastro, vice president, Beth Tracey, sec./treas. This year due to their largest fund raiser, the magazine drive, they were able to contribute to many activities during the year such as homecoming, the Holly Ball, decorations for the school during the Christmas season, as well as the very successful and spirited prom.

The dedication of the junior class and its officers made the year eventful as well as fun.

This year's Sophomore class officers are: Deana Bardetti, president, Erin Kaufman, vice president, and Jennifer Patten, secretary/treasurer. The officers assisted S.A.C. at dances and other school related activities, along with being a part of the Homecoming and Christmas assemblies. In addition, they organized the class float in October and ran a successful fundraiser in December. Deana, Erin, and Jen have put forth all of their efforts to accomplish their goal of making the Sophomore class a spirited and helpful part of Andover High.

Pep Club

Although many clubs boast to have "the second highest membership", in school, there is no doubt which club is numero-uno in number of members: the Pep Club.

Year Two of the great spirit revival was very successful, with the addition of swim meets, soccer, and hockey games to the usual rounds of cheering at football and basketball games.

The Pep Club became a forum for school ideas and activities under the enthusiastic guidance of Mike "Andover High" Mareoux.

Business Club

The Business Club has always been one of the biggest and most energetic clubs of Andover High, and this year was no exception. The Business Club's goal is to familiarize students with business procedures by visiting businesses, and by planned activities. Such activities include a dance, a bake-sale, and a flea market.

The Business Club is able to keep such high standards through the guidance and support of their club advisors, Mr. Spanos and Miss Madden. Dedicated leaders are also a key to success: President Robin Garabedian; Vice President Susan Cunningham; Secretary/Treasurer Abby Robb; Public Relations Betsy Frost and Robby Teichert, have shown their motivation continuously.

The money raised will be used for a business scholarship, and for a fieldtrip. These funds will also help defray the cost of the competitions.

We are also planning a banquet at the end of the year.

Members of the Business Club sang Christmas carols for the residents of Academy Manor.

Math League

The Math League is comprised of students who have a strong interest and ability in the various disciplines of mathematics. Once a month, the team competes with several other schools in the neighboring communities. The co-Captains are Kevin Flynn and Adam Kolodny and the advisor is, was, and always will be Mr. Lawson.

Each enthusiastic member is assigned three categories consisting of three problems each. In the ten minute period, he or she tries to successfully answer all three questions to attain the six possible points (being carful to place the answer in its alloted space.) The categories range from Algebra I and Geometry, to the more intriguing areas of Complex Numbers and Logarithms. Among the many benefits of Math League are improved grades in math, higher SAT scores, and learning how to analytically solve problems both individually and as a team.

National Honor Society

The National Honor Society is a select group of students elected by the faculty for excellence in both academics and extra-curriculars. Not only is the club called upon during the year to help in school and community events, but its members also work on periodic fund raisers for scholarships awarded at graduation.

President Maura King, vice-president Robin Pollack, and secretary/treasurer Chris Welch worked along with advisor Ms. Zalla to make the year interesting (that's one way of putting it). Car washes (some people's clothes are still drying), the Holly Ball, and of course, the banner cutting were the major events, while the highlight was the induction of new junior members in the spring.

Many thanks to all of the NHS members who really participated to make this year so successful.

Discipline Advisory Board

The Discipline Advisory Board is a two year old program that thrives under the guidance of Mrs. Wendy Palmer and Mrs. Jennings. Membership to the board was an open invitation to homeroom reps, and then opened to the general student body when interest increased.

Basically, the D.A.B. is kids caring about other kids. Students who have discipline problems because of too many tardies or class cuts can come to the D.A.B. and have a contract drawn up to avoid meeting with the superintendent. Students who have gripes, or feel they have been treated unfairly can also be heard by the D.A.B.

Awareness of the board is growing — the D.A.B. is becoming an integral part of the discipline process here at the A.H.S.

Newspaper

This was sort of a rebuilding year for the newspaper. But even though they had some difficult problems, the progress made should be invaluable for next year's staff.

The senior editors Kim Knpa, Carolyn Bishop, and Jim Heron all provided their utmost in talent and tenocity. These individuals often stayed after school planning issues and meeting deadlines. But their real value, one of the most important factors to this year's paper, was that there were three people in charge. Everyone had their own job and pursued it until it was accomplished. Any of the three could easily have been the senior editor in any other year, but they decided it would be in the paper's best interest if they shared the title.

This, coupled with the superior enthusiasm sparked by Mrs. Tomlinson, the Rock's new faculty advisor, turned the paper around. It is often hard to judge what one person can do as far as motivating people, but not in this case. Mrs. Tomlinson spearheaded the drive to better quality both visually and in writing.

Among others who made significant contributions was Wes Bedrosian whose creative drawings opened a whole new door for the paper.

The staff jointly would like to say that they have their deepest appreciation for all those who have kept faith and they hope next year's results will be as good!

French Club

Le Cercle Français est une organization extrordinaire pour les gens qui aiment la culture et la langue française. Nous sommes six jolies jeunes filles et un beau garçon, notre chef c'est Nila Thoday et notre conseiliere c'ost Madame Guess.

Spanish Club

Hola! Como estás? Somos el Club de Español. Es un club muy divertido a causa de los miembros entusiasmados y porque todo el tiempo cuando estamos en grupo tenemos que hablar en español. Algunas veces es muy dificil y tenmos que preguntar a vivestro acousejador, el Señor Kolbe, "Cómo se dice este?", "Cómo se dice ese?" Pero, él es simpatico y now dice la respuesta. Durante el año, visitamos a restaurantes como "Guatala Harry's" y algunos fueron quienes hicieron mucho para organizar todo, fueron Pam Clement (presidente), Sharon French (vice-presidente), y Jennifer Bischoff (tesorero).

ODYSSEY

Odyssey is a new interdisciplinary course which is team-taught by Craig Simpson — Social Studies, Sarah O'Brien — Language, Carolyn Parker — Literature, and Kathleen Cook — Fine Arts. It consists of an in-depth cultural study of four specific contemporary societies, using an interdisciplinary approach. The course is aimed at opening the minds and broadening the horizons of the participating students.

Learning centers which are introductory to the unit on China, involve experiential learning. From this initial experience students begin the process of proposing hypothesis which are later substantiated by facts.

Model U.N.

The Model United Nations group has been studying the problems faced by the U.N. and its member nations. After an overview of the organization's agencies and programs. The group studied the assigned countries (Italy and the Bahamas) with regard to culture, and domestic and foreign policies. This research and planning culminated in Boston at the Harvard sponsored Model United Nations. During this four day event demands were made on the group's skills of research, negotiation, and debate previously learned in the classroom. This weekend proved to be a cultural as well as educational experience for all those involved.

In addition, the group traveled to the elementary schools in Andover during U.N. Week. Here the group gave presentations in order to introduce the U.N. agencies to younger students.

S.A.F.E.

SAFE (Student Aid For the Elderly) is a group of students under the supervision of Gerry Grasso, who are concerned primarily with the well being of the elderly in Andover. All of the club members belong to the Friendly Visitors Program and are working for a better understanding of the elderly.

S.A.D.D.

The S.A.D.D. Chapter at Andover High certainly started off with a bang last year! With much publicity and news attention, Andover High quickly became known as one of the first schools in the Merrimack Valley — and even in the Nation — to take a stand on one of the most pressing problems facing the American teen-ager today: the problem of drinking and driving.

Starting in 1982, with the Spring Prom Program, Andover High School formed its own chapter of S.A.D.D. under the vivacious leadership of Mrs. Lynne McCoart. Through her spirited guidance, S.A.D.D. has become one of the largest clubs in the school with over one-hundred students on the roster this fall. The goal of Mrs. McCoart and the whole S.A.D.D. program is to increase social awareness of drinking and driving, and thereby hopefully decrease it. Some of the major ways that S.A.D.D. has done this was through the S.A.D.D. essay contest this fall, the S.A.D.D. Night in February (with guest speaker Robert Anastis), and, of course, the giant Prom Program in the spring with such prominent politicians as Representative Sue Tucker and Senator Pat McGovern present. The winners of the S.A.D.D. essay contest were: Cindy Connor, Ann Costello, and Tom Lutz.

Thanks to president Elaine Scanlon, publicity manager Dawn Aikman, and sec/treas Sharlene Galvin, the S.A.D.D. program has gotten off to a fantastic start and should continue to be an integral part of Andover High School for a long time to come!

S.A.V.E.

Students Against Vandalism Everywhere (S.A.V.E.) is a unique program begun last year to try and make the student body at AHS more aware of the vandalism problem and its expense to the school system. Inspired and advised by Miss Sally O'Brien, this club gives kids a first hand look at vandalism problems and gives them a chance to do something about them.

Students volunteer to be "on duty" during their free periods to patrol their hall and check the bathrooms. Although the students have no actual authority, their presence for almost a year around the corridors has visibly reduced the amount of damage and defacing of the bathrooms. S.A.V.E. was a program founded to increase pride in Andover High and has begun a proud tradition. Let's keep up the good work!

Ecology Club

The Ecology Club of Andover High School is an important part of our school. Unfortunately, it is often regarded as insignificant, but it does play a major role in the improvement of our environment.

Under the guidance of Phil Nelson, the Ecology Club recycles in the high school and strongly supports the town program. With the help of its members, it preserves the grounds and gives tours of its nature trail at Deer Jump Reservation during spring and autumn. The Ecology Club also assists in the making and grooming of A.V.I.S. (Andover Village Improvement Society). In addition to this, the club maintains an ecology research center in the high school library that is frequently updated with current information. Even with all of these activities on its agenda, the club remains available to help the town as well as area groups in environmental activities.

Photography Club

The Andover High Photography Club consists of students who are interested in 35mm photography. After learning to compose and shoot pictures, members then learn how to develop and print their photos in the school darkroom. This year's members included: Kevin Flynn, president; Mary Carlisle, Vice President; and members Kathy Battles, Meredith Caplan, and Kim Sloan. Club Advisor: Phil Nelson.

Peer Counseling

The Andover Peer Counseling Project is a part of Andover High School that is often unseen or misunderstood. The purpose of the Project is to provide high school students with training in human relations, interpersonal communication skills, crisis intervention, decision making and group facilitation in order to provide a variety of supportive social services for the entire Andover Community. The first step is Communication Training, a 15 week course in self-awareness, decision-making and inter-personal communication skills. This un-graded, non-credit course is offered to all students and is taught by Project staff. Following training, students who desire to become peer counselors are individually screened by the staff.

Peer Counselors are encouraged to become involved in any of the services sponsored by the Project. Such services include the well known Big Brother/Big Sister program, which offers supportive friendship and role modeling for children of all ages, and the Connection, an improvisational drama group presenting skits on various social issues to a side variety of audiences. The Project also sponsors programs that reach outward to the elementary and junior high school students in the community. The Divorce Program pairs Peer Counselors with adjustment counselors to lead divorce and separation support groups for elementary school children, while workshops for sixth graders on coping with peer pressure and the adjustment to junior high are offered through the Peer Pressure Program. For academic assistance and emotional support for junior high school students, Outreach Tutoring has been a successful program.

There are many other programs; the Peer Counseling Project is large, and the many services it offers to the Andover Community are invaluable.

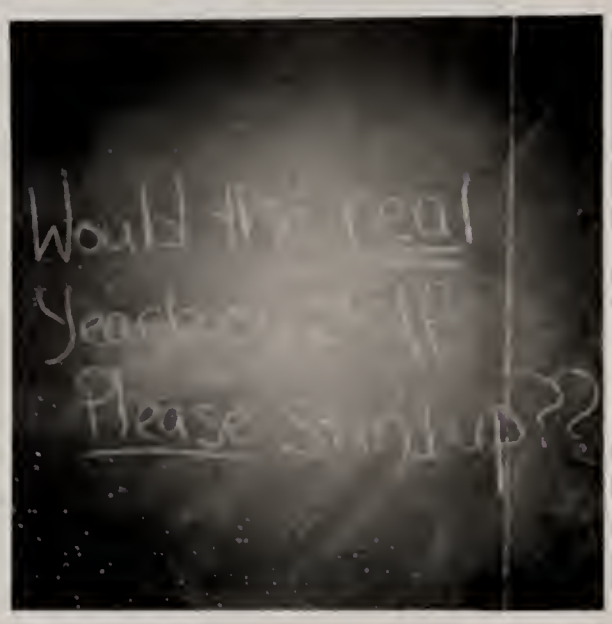

Yearbook

This has been a year of changes for the Yearbook. Changes in staff as well as style and the book's production. The transition, though, has not been easy. Beginning the year in debt, and the loss of Charles Wettergreen as advisor and Maura King as Editor-in-Chief left the new staff relatively ignorant and inexperieneed.

It was with great effort that Sue Watt, the new advisor from outside the Andover sehool system, and Chris Welch, the new Editor-in-Chief, overeame the initial problems and set about produeing the book. Together with Assistant Editors-in-Chief Jennifer Tucker and Jennifer Tilghman, Senior seetion Editor Sharon Freneh, Faeulty Editor Heather Wilson, and several other key staff members, the Yearbook staff managed to pull together to produee the best Yearbook ever.

A.F.S.

AFS runs international exchange programs which enable students to spend a summer or a whole school year in another country, in order to learn more about its culture and to meet new friends. AFS believes that personal relationships between individulas of different cultures can help to establish international understanding, friendship, and peace.

Last year, students from Thailand and Spain stayed with us. This year, our school is hosting Eugenia Lobos from Chile and Henning Kulig from West Germany. In addition, AFS enables us to send club members to other countries. This year Karen Kulig spent the summer in West Germany. Three students participated in the full year program. Kathy Batson to Turkey, Christine Dwyer spent a year in Peru, and Betsy White lived in New Zealand. The AFS Club, headed by Amy Marquis, president; Karen Kulig, vice president; Lisa Boudreau, secretary; and Gemma Park, treasurer, has been busy with many activities through the year. Fundraisers, such as the International Dinner and the Carnation sale, help defray the visiting students' expenses as well as fund club activities.

Programs like the AFS weekend and the U.N. Day at Memorial Hall Library allow the members to meet foreign students staying in the area. The Short Term Exchange enables groups of students to spend a week in the United States. This year, our group went to Connecticutt.

Our special thanks goes to faculty advisor, Mr. Bill Kolbe, and to exchange student advisor, Mrs. Molly Ryden for their great help.

A.B.C.

ABC is a non-profit, community funded organization for talented and motivated minority students. The program offers a higher secondary level of education that prepares students for attending highly competitive colleges and universities. Since its beginning, ABC's goal has been to place capable minority students in more demanding academic environments. In doing so, ABC hopes to add a greater percentage of minority leaders and successful workers to society.

Audio — Visual Aides

Audio visual material has become a most valuable tool in the classroom. With proper knowledge, students can assist teachers in making these materials more available. Students who sign up for A.V. during free periods are involved in the arrangement and production of audio-visual presentations. These include slide-tape shows, audio taping, and video taping for classroom skits, school presentations, and sporting events. Students learn to trouble shoot equipment while emphasizing good operating knowledge of all audio-visual equipment.

Strategy Games Club

The Strategy Games Club is a school club open to all students of Andover High School. In this club the members engage in a variety of games such as Dungeons and Dragons, Traveller, and Car Wars. The players are allowed to role play different personalities in futuristic or fantasy settings. Plays have to develop creative strategys to overcome challenges and perils in order to achieve their goal.

The club got off to a good start this year and has enjoyed a wide variety of activities thanks to the efforts of the co-presidents Jim Campbell and Mike Sharrow. New membership is always encouraged. President: Mike Sharrow, Past President: Jim Campbell, Vice President: Mark Townsend, Sec./Treas.: Karen Kegg, Club Advisor: Mr. Paul Kegaro.

Special People

THE SHOW

Three one-act plays were presented in early February, displaying weeks of rehearsing and polishing. The two student directed plays, Adams Rib Hurts, and Games showed the ingenuity of the young directors A.J. Sullivan, Debbie Bartle, and Maura King. The Importance of Being Earnest, directed by Mr. King, was selected for participation in the Massachusetts ReginalDrama Competion. Overall, the Trilogy's debut in the J. Everett Collins Center for the performing Arts was a huge success!!!

MUST GO ON!

Drama Guild

The '83-'84 school year proved to be the year of the AHS Drama Guild. With the opening of the J. Everet Collins Center for the Performing Arts, the Drama Guild had a dream facility right at its fingertips. Director Mr. Robert King along with president A.J. Sullivan, vice president Maura King, secretary Chris McCarthy, and treasurer Debbie Bartle worked very hard to make this a successful year.

A three-act comedy, The Great All-American Musical Disaster, was performed in the fall and pulled many new and varied talents together. A trilogy of one-act plays was presented in early February, two of them being student directed.

The highlight of the year of course, was the AMDG's first spring musical in the center. This gala performance of The Music Man was presented in early May.

This year was also special because Andover not only participated in the Regional Drama Competition (with Oscar Wilde's The Importance of Being Ernest) but also got to host the event and did quite well!

The new workshop make set calls much more fun ... bearable at least! Much thanks to the crews on all shows, for without your help and support, where would the casts have been? (we know, we know! On an empty, dark stage behind a closed curtain with no sound!)

Madrigals

The Madrigals, with the addition of their new show choir repetoire, had added responsibility (to say the least)! Starting the year off with a weekend down at Grottonwood for an initial injection of singing and dancing proved to be good for the commradeship of the group. As the year progressed, evening rehearsals became necessary to prepare for the opening of our own Uncle John's center (which was a success, of course!!) as well as the busy Christmas season. Boasting to now know all four verses to every Christmas carol (as well as a few unorthodox ones invented on the tour of the Andover Schools), the round of Christmas concerts was highlighted by the performance of "Oliver" at the Sheraton in Boston. (So what if we were an hour late?)

Overall, the high points of the year for the Madrigals were the famed opening of the Collins Center and the participation in the music festival down in Florida during April vacation. But that's not all they got out of this year; the Madrigals are now qualified to dance in Andover's better known closets and cubicles. Who knows? Maybe some will even be able to market their new skill and uniform and become singing waiters or waitresses!

Thanks Mr. Gould and Uncle John for another super year!!

Band

Marching Band ... for all of us there are so many memories to go with those words. It started at Band Camp, where every day we marched eight hours in the sun, played four hours to the bugs, slept maybe three hours on those cast-iron matresses, and, for the rest of the hours ... Well, we remember! Then there were the football games; we started the season sweating under too much day-glo polyester, and ended it playing accidental trills from shivering so much. And always there was the field show, with night practices which engraved the first thirty measures of "Children of Sanchez" on our brains forever. We couldn't always see where we were marching, but by the end of the season we could march it in our sleep anyway.

Above everything though, there were the competitions. We started out heading for the sky, winning in spite of tough competition, casual announces, (Hey Cathy, is the band ready?") and a habit of getting the buses hopelessly lost on the way. The crazy songs helped — remember "Andover Band" and "Cookies"?! But mostly it was the incredible staff we had; they were always there, even if we sometimes wished they'd go home so we could! As for the Finals ... well, maybe we won't be telling our grandchildren about the results, but we can still pat ourselves on the back when we match the video. We really went somewhere this year, (even if it wasn't California!) and the whole season was definitely worth a "psss ... HUT!"

Handbell Choir

The Andover High handbell choir has been keeping busy this year performing in the Fall and Spring Cabarets, Prescott Nursing Home, the Christmas Concert, and Family Night uptown. They were also invited to play at the Sheraton in Boston, and joined the Madrigals in performing there at Christmastime.

The handbells are always well received wherever they go. Contrary to popular belief — they are not all a bunch of ding-a-lings, and yes, they do it better on foam.

Acapella Choir

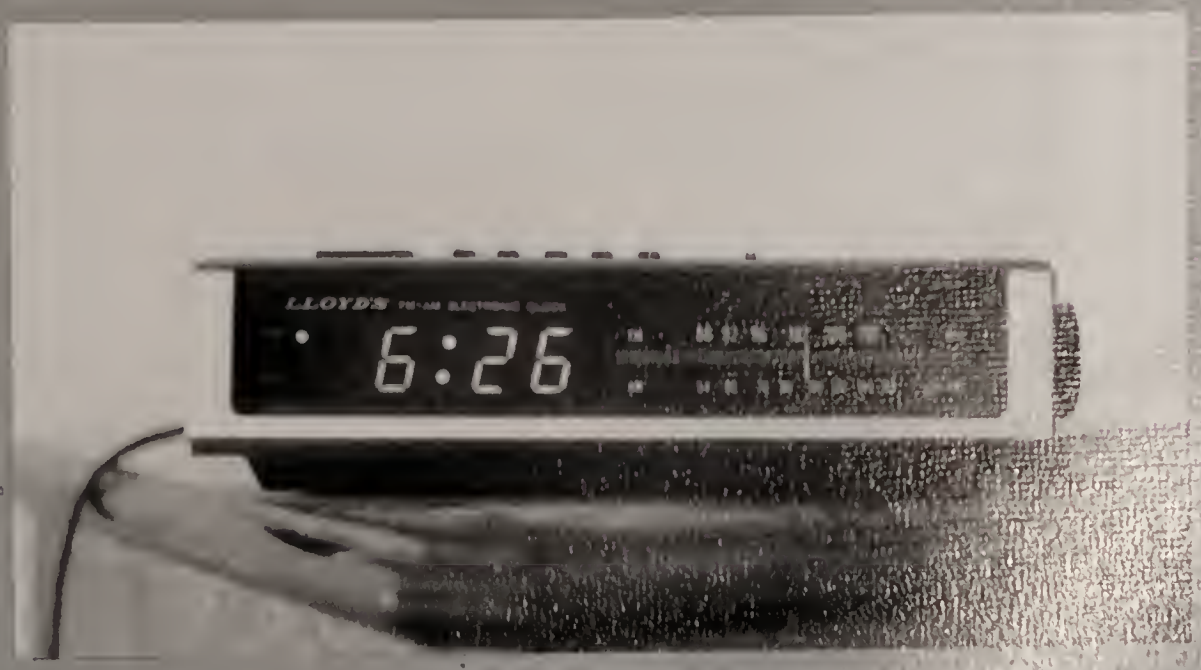

The Andover High School Acapella Choir has become one of the best music courses offered at A.H.S. this year. The choir is an all-girl chorus which performs many of their songs without accompaniment. The high level of quality achieved by the choir is due to the hard work of Mr. Gould and Uncle John (J. Everett Collins), the directors and the dedication of the members. Many members of the choir performed in the opening of the J. Everett Collins Center For the Performing Arts. The choir also participated in the Fall and Spring Cabarets, the Christmas Concert, Family Nite, the Andover Bank Performance, the Spring Concert, and Commencement. The highlight of the year was competing in Florida on the Choir trip, which proved to be a great time for all involved.

Memories . . .

As our eyes adjust to the blinding light,
We see time passing before us.
Parting; as a flock takes flight
In the misty pre-dawn hush of tomorrow . . .

If we are to but watch it part,
Time will leave us behind;
Instead, pursue life with your whole heart,
Keep sorrow, always far from your mind.

Another Day at the Office

It's 7:50 and the teacher comes to read the names on Mr. Hixon's hit list. As you're walking down the hall, you don't have the faintest idea what you did last Friday because of the rough weekend. You know you didn't get caught smoking or skipping study hall. You get into the middle of the line thinking what you could have possibly done wrong. The kids in the front of the line are the ones who either know they're not going to get in trouble or it's their first time being called down. Then you notice all the head bangers behind you comparing their individual offenses and betting on who will get in the most trouble. You don't want to talk with anyone because you're still thinking about what you could have done to deserve this humiliation. When you look to your left you can see Mr. Hixon's head raised through the window and your eyes meet, quickly you look away before he turns you into stone. You also notice Mrs. Hayes laughing as Mr. Richardson hands each offender his penalty. They're all smiling. They seem to be having a grand time pumping out detentions. You begin to mumble things about the three of them as you move slowly up the line. Finally, you get to the doorway and you can clearly hear their voices, your hands begin to sweat as you gradually move closer and closer until you hear: And what's your homeroom?

The teacher gives not of his wisdom but rather of his faith and his lovingness.

If he is indeed wise he does not bid you enter the house of his wisdom, but rather leads you to the threshold of your own mind.

Think Positive
If you THINK you are beaten,
You are.
If you THINK you dare not,
You don't.
Success begins with your own will . . .
It's all in your state
of mind.
Life's battles are not always won
By those who are stronger
or faster;
Sooner or later the person who wins
Is the person who THINKS he can!

A very special thanks to the four Warriors, Rich Quintal, Doug Lindquist, Dean Orfanedes, and John Duffy, as well as to all of the Seniors for their Dedication, Enthusiasm, and Spirit! We have learned much from you and are proud of your leadership.
The Best of Luck to you always.

"The people in one's life are like the pillars on one's porch you see life through. And sometimes they hold you up, and sometimes they lean on you, and sometimes it is just enough to know they're standing by."

Kaleidoscope

The sails are up,
 and pulling us forward.
We steer as we follow,
 the path we have chosen.
a few,
 we pass,
 as we hurl,
 straight out to sea.
Some-
 they pass us,
 while we try harder,
 to slow down.
Our life is not easy,
 we buck and we twist.
But forever, we move on,
 as we search for the golden coast.
